Enovise Group and SOCRadar Partner to Strengthen Cyber Threat Intelligence and Response

Nairobi, Kenya, February 17, 2025 — Enovise, a leading cybersecurity firm specializing in Managed Detection and Response (MDR), Threat Intelligence, and Cyber Resilience, has partnered with SOCRadar, a pioneer in external threat intelligence, to deliver advanced, proactive cybersecurity solutions tailored for organizations across Africa and beyond.

This collaboration integrates SOCRadar's Extended Threat Intelligence (XTI) platform with Enovise's MDR services, providing organizations with comprehensive threat detection, rapid incident response, and proactive defense against evolving cyber threats.

"By combining our MDR expertise with SOCRadar's intelligence capabilities, we're offering our clients a stronger, more proactive security posture," said Gilbert Nyandeje, Group Chief Executive at Enovise.

"We are thrilled about this partnership, as it represents a major step forward in our mission to enhance cyber resilience across Africa. By integrating SOCRadar's threat intelligence with Enovise's deep expertise in MDR, we are empowering organizations to stay ahead of cyber threats with real-time insights and actionable intelligence. This collaboration underscores our commitment to delivering cutting-edge security solutions that address the region's unique cybersecurity challenges." said Berk Sarıca, Regional Business Development Manager for Africa at SOCRadar.
